Work Experience

Active participation in Evidence Collection may include work done in a supervisory capacity or as part of a team or multi-party exam, as long as the applicant was engaged in identifying, collecting, and documenting evidence at a fire scene. For the purposes of this program, “forensic evidence” is evidence that can undergo some form of scientific testing or evaluation and specifically excludes documentary evidence such as photographs and interviews. Please provide documentation to support your experience such as a letter from your employer or employment records.
